

EMILY M. HEWITT MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

STEPHEN K. STOCKING MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

WHO WAS EMILY HEWITT

Emily was an artist, author, teacher and a docent at Calaveras Big Trees State Park whose life found meaning when communicating her love of nature to others. As a University of California and California State College – educated teacher, Emily combined literature and the natural sciences to vibrantly present her lessons. As the first woman Mayor of the City of Oakdale, California, she fought for the preservation of agricultural lands on the fringe of urbanization. As an artist she captured the essence of the Sierra Nevada, Pacific Coast and the desert in oils, watercolors, fabric, clay and other media. She was pretty, petite, positive, energetic, compassionate and thoughtful. The Hewitt family created the Emily M. Hewitt Scholarship in her memory and continues to support its purpose of helping California students attend college.

WHO WAS STEPHEN K. STOCKING

Steve was also a teacher, an author and a docent at Calaveras Big Trees State Park as well as a park naturalist at Sequoia National Park. He taught biology at San Joaquin Delta College for more than 30 years. Steve could give you an education on just about anything that walked, flew or grew, from mice to mountain lions, from songbirds to sequoias. His mantra was “Make every walk a field trip and every meal a picnic”. Calaveras Big Trees Association created the Stephen K. Stocking Memorial Scholarship in Steve’s memory to inspire young naturalists to pursue a career in the footsteps of a great friend of Calaveras Big Trees State Park who dedicated his life to educating the conservationists of tomorrow.

PURPOSE of SCHOLARSHIPS

To provide a monetary award of $3,000.00 for a promising upper division or graduate student who shows a commitment to communicate and interpret a love of nature and an understanding of the need to practice conservation.

ELIGIBILITY

Eligibility for application is extended to any student or graduate student enrolled full-time in an accredited California post-secondary educational institution whose educational career goals clearly are directed towards communicating and interpreting nature’s wonder.
